WELCOME

We launch Season 2023 buoyed by the lessons of the last few years and the various opportunities they have presented.

In response to the disruption of the pandemic our programming philosophy has explored the dynamic and ever changing relationship between the past and present, inviting audiences to experience how vital and responsive opera is as an artform.

We continue this in 2023 with a program of works that are alive to the complexity of our times, leaning in to the challenges we face as a society and celebrating all the joy and wonder to be found in telling stories through song.

Our mainstage season at QPAC interrogates power, its use, abuse and influence, in three very different ways. We open with a concert version of Verdi's Macbeth, a story revealing how dangerous and ultimately facile power is when pursued for selfish intent. José Carbó and Rosario La Spina, two great singers well known to Queensland audiences, play Macbeth and Macduff.

They are joined by two artists we are thrilled to be welcoming for the first time, Anna-Louise Cole as Lady Macbeth and incoming Chief Conductor of the Queensland Symphony Orchestra, Umberto Clerici.

In August we present the third in the Mozart — Da Ponte trilogy, Così fan tutte. A synthesis of the ideas in Figaro and Don Giovanni, Così explores the power of suggestion and the "rules of desire". Zoe Zeniodi returns to conduct the Queensland Symphony Orchestra and an exceptional ensemble of singers in what promises to be a highly original take on this most beautiful opera.

We end the year with Aida, an opera exploring where personal and political power intersect. From grand processions to intimate professions of love, this stunning production presents audiences with a video design that reimagines how an opera can be staged.

Our touring production, Lady Sings the Maroons, draws upon the great Queensland songbook to tell a story about the extraordinary contribution Queensland artists have made to the art of song. Irena Lysiuk and Marcus Corowa, two of the stars from Are You Lonesome Tonight, are joined by Jess Hitchcock to create a sublime night of song.

Our Festival of Outback Opera returns for a third year, with Vanessa Scammell leading an ensemble of some of Australia's finest singers, including Emma Matthews, José Carbó and Milijana Nikolic.

Add to this seven new performers for our Studio Series, our Young Artist Program, two shows for schools and our many different community programs and 2023 is another year in which there is much to experience.

We are grateful to our major performing partners, QPAC and the Queensland Symphony Orchestra, who ensure we deliver performances of the highest quality. We also acknowledge and thank our government partners, Arts Queensland, the Australia Council and Brisbane City Council, who are key to our being able to bring our work to audiences across the state.

Thanks also to our ever growing community of donors and sponsors, who enable us to develop new ideas and grow as artists. Particular thanks to the Tim Fairfax Family Foundation and Mather Foundation, whose generosity facilitates so much of the work we do across the regions.

Finally, thank you to our audiences, your enthusiasm for the work we create is a constant source of inspiration. We look forward to deepening our connection with you in 2023.

MACBETH

IN CONCERT

False face must hide what false heart doth know

Fueled by treachery, superstition and a lust for power that knows no bounds, Verdi's Macbeth is a tale for our times.

Incoming Chief Conductor Umberto Clerici leads the Queensland Symphony Orchestra and the mighty Opera Queensland Chorus, in a thrilling concert performance of Verdi's murderous tale.

With José Carbó as Macbeth, Anna Louise-Cole as Lady Macbeth, and Rosario La Spina as Macduff, the passion and fury of Verdi's renowned score will be brought to life in vivid detail.

COSÌ FAN TUTTE

What is love?

The third in the Mozart — Da Ponte trilogy, Così fan tutte questions the idea of romantic love in all its many guises.

Is it an illusion or the source of all our happiness? Can we long for another and be faithful to our betrothed? Is romantic love a privilege only for the young?

Zoe Zeniodi leads the Queensland Symphony Orchestra and an ensemble of some of Australia's most exciting singers in this new production directed by Patrick Nolan.

Building on the success of 2021's The Marriage of Figaro, described as an 'outstanding illustration of the joys of 18th century opera transported into the 21st', this version of Così fan tutte will again reveal just how modern Mozart is.

AIDA

PRESENTED BY OPERA QUEENSLAND
& OPERA AUSTRALIA

“As magnificent, jaw-dropping, gasp-inducing and lavish a staging as you can imagine.” THE AU REVIEW

A story of a love so strong
it defies enemy lines.
A story of a kingdom in triumph and a nation in chains. A story of betrayal.

Verdi's majestic music makes this epic an enduring favourite. Davide Livermore's radiant production is a thrilling theatrical experience.
Ten towering digital screens create ever-changing floor-to-ceiling set pieces. Immersive digital video design ranges from rich symbolism to vivid landscapes.

Opulent costumes and props reflect the splendour of Egypt at the height of its power. Together with dramatic video, the massed grandeur of the famous Triumphal March is a visual and musical feast.

Sensational Australian soprano Natalie Aroyan performs as the enslaved princess, Aida, while Elena Gabouri reprises her critically acclaimed turn as Aida's rival, Amneris. Diego Torre is a powerful
Radamès, the man they both love.

LADY SINGS THE MAROONS

Following the success of Are You Lonesome Tonight, Opera Queensland takes a deep dive into the Queensland songbook to celebrate some of Australia's most loved artists.

The Saints, Gladys Moncrieff, Savage Garden and Harold Blair
are just a few who inspire Lady Sings the Maroons.

A mixtape for a road trip from Brisbane to Cunnamulla, Mount Isa to Cairns, Lady Sings the Maroons tells a story about the art of making a great song and the artists who write them.

Featuring the phenomenal voices of Jess Hitchcock, Irena Lysiuk and Marcus Corowa, the production tours from May 2023, including a visit to the Festival of Outback Opera.

FIZZ!

Opera Queensland brings the magic of opera to our youngest fans with a revival of the whacky, weird and wonderful production FIZZ!

Based on the classic comic opera The Elixir of Love by Donizetti and reimagined for young audiences, FIZZ! follows a teenage love triangle between Nemorino, an awkward textbook nerd, Adina, his obsession and great beauty and Benny, the spoilt son of a supermarket tycoon.

With the help of a magic love potion, this coming-of-age story has at its heart the message that goodness can prevail.

Filled with twists, FIZZtastic music and a cast of excellent young performers, FIZZ! is designed to delight and entertain children new to opera.
